JUBILEE WEEK PLANS IN MAKING

WILL SOLICIT FUNDS

All Asked to Decorate Week of June 9—Soldiers' Memorial Projected—In Honor of Heroes.

The citizens of Alexandria having tendered a rousing reception to the first contingent of our heroes returning from victorious battles overseas, and the remaining men coming home as quickly as they are mustered out, it is thought that by the second week in June, which has been designated 'Jubilee Week,' all Alexandria will make a supreme effort to give an adequate testimonial of affection and appreciation to the men who have fought well and so sucessful.

The "Welcome Home Committee" appeals to the citizens to decorate places of business and homes. Every one is ask to display at least one American flag.

A large committee of representative women and men is now soliciting funds out of which a small part will be used for decorations and a dinner to be given to the returning men and for other necessary expenses. The greater part of the fund will be used in properly equipping a permanent memorial, which will be a fitting and lasting tribute of esteem to be used and enjoyed by the men during the remainder of their lives.

Alexandria always does its part, and with the boys at home.—With the terrible pictures of many battles impressed upon their memories it behooves every family in the city to contribute liberally, each acording to their ability. Remember your contributon is not to be used in the celebration of the week, but most of it for a lasting testimonial of your respect for the men of Alexandria who have done such valiant service.

GIBBONS' LONG LIFE

James Cardinal Gibbons, who was in a Fairmont, W. V., recently on his way to attend the silver jubilee of teh eloquent and able Bishop Donahue of the diocese of Wheeling, is a living refutation of the popular belief that able men break down under a seemingly crushing weight of responsiblity. For 33 years Cardinal Gibbons has been at the head of the Roman Catholic hierarchy in this country. For a large part of that time he was the only prince of the church in the United States and some of the weightiest problems that faced his church in that time were solved by his brains and his patience.

Cardinal Gibbons' ordination to the priesthood took place in 1861 and early after that he wrote a doctrinal book entitled, "The Faith of Our Fathers," primarily for circulation among members of the Protestant Churches, which is said to have run through 40 editions in this country and 70 editions in Great Britain. That marked the introduction of this virile young American to the people across the water and he has never lost his audience on that side.

On July 23 Cardinal Gibbons will be 85 years lod. He is a wonderfully vigorous man. physically as well as intellectually.

IN MEMORIAM

RATCLIFFE—In sad but loving remembrance of our little daughter, ALICE VIRGINIA RATCLIFFE, who departed this life four months ago, January 29, 1919.

Can we help but feel so lonely,
When her voice we do not hear,
For no words were ever sweeter,
Then the words of our baby dear.
Asleep in Jesus, blessed sleep,
How sweet to rest from pain,
To rest where mortals never weep,
And loved ones meet again.
For beyond this world of sorrow
Far beyond this world of care,
We shall find our missing treasure
In our Father's mansion there.

STILL THEY COME

Several more of the young Alexandrians who have been members of the American Expeditionary Force which operated in France reached their homes last night. They were not received with an ovation similar to that of Tuesday night when their comrades stepped from the train in thei rold home city, but they were met with warm welcome in their homes where they appeared unexpectedly. In one instance the members of a family had retired for the night, as the hour was late. A knock was heard at the door, and the father upon rising and going to the window heard a familiar voice. It was that of his son who had been away nearly two years. It goes without saying that there was but little sleep for the family during the night, and this morning the family reunion at the breakfast table was an event long to be remembered.

During our civil war there was a well-known song, "Brother's Fainting at the Door." It told of a young soldier upon whom army life had left its ineffaceable mark. Before he was mustered out the insidious white plague had marked him for its own. He had made his way to his home but with his nerves shattered and pulmonary diseases engaged in its deadly work, he found it difficult to keep from falling headlong into the door when it was opened by his tender-hearted sister.

No such sad scenes were brought about by the return of our boys. They were all apparently well and in good humor. But they all with one accord announce their preference for the land of their birth. They have lived in the beautiful rural country of France. But they say that meteoroligaelly it does not appeal to them, as Jupiter Pluvius seems to have his palace in that country.

THE FEROCIOUS WILDCAT

A Baltimore paper this morning printed a suggesitve picture. An innocent child is playing with Liberty Bonds. In front of the little one is a voracious animal with the words "wildcat stocks" upon its haunches.

During the past year a number of citizens of Alexandria have feceived circulars, some from Baltimore, setting forth the prospects of certain oil and ore corporations which are likely to pay attractive dividensd and urging the recipients of the missives to purchase stock immediately, as the supply is limited. In one instance a certain company, after having sent its cirulars to Alexandria, passed into bankruptcy.

The late P. T. Barnum is credited with saying that the world prefers to be humbugged. We are often tempted to adopt the observation of the great showman.

It seems to us that should people stop and think they would become convinced that bonanzas in the way of great dividends are never offered to the general public. If a company professng to own mines which throw the cave of the Count of Monte Christo into an eclipse they would not care to take the public into its confidence.

The paper which published the picture referred to contains a seasonable editorial. Among other things it says:

"Does education educate is a question that comes to the mental surface again when we read of the successful flotaton, here and in other parts of the country, of wildcat stock, particularly oil stock which is sure to pay investors fabulous returns. The confidence man is abroad not only in Baltimore, everywhere, and appatently he has rarely reaped a better harvest." The New York Sun cites the case of a French governess who put her savings of thirteen years, $6,800, including a $1,000 Liberty Bond, in an oil company, which was simply raining golden manna upon investors faster than they could gobble it up. She was in better luck than most of such victims, because she had taught in the family of one of the governors of the New York Stock Exchange, who discovered the stock promoter—not a member of the exchange—who had received $4,800 of her money as "commission." He was compelled to disgorge $1,000 in cash, to return the Liberty Bond and to give his notes for $2,800. But the rest of her money was beyond reach.

There was some excuse for this poor young Frenchwoman falling into this den of thieves, because in spite of her long residence in this country she had not become as familiar as the ordinary American with stock-swindling games. And yet if she had applied to her Stock Exchange friend before investing, instead of afterward, she would still have all of her savings.

DAYLIGHT SAVING

Most of the people of the United States have accommodated themselves to the daylight saving plan. A few, however, still demur.

A contemporary points out that daylight saving is not an enterprise of the United States alone but a worldwide reform which has never been abandoned by any country which adopted it. It was introduced in Germany in 1916, to take effect on May 1, and within three months 12 other countries had adopted the practice. "Summer time" was put in effect in Germany, Holland, Austria, Turkey, England, France, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Italy, Switzerland, Spain and Portugal. Nova Scotia introduced the practice on this continent.

We thus have the experience of a number of countries, widely separated and affected by utterly different local conditions, to guide us.

The benefits derived from daylight saving by persons not engaged in farming are positive and numerous. Great sums of money are saved in lighting bills, the coal saving being estimated at $40,000,000 a year. Office and factory workers are enabled to get an evening hour for outdoor exercise, garden making, sport, they would not otherwise enjoy. Opportunities for wholesome recreation are increased, and no loss or inconvenience is ocasioned to anybody.

Under all the circumstances it appears to be the duty of Congress to retain daylight saving on the national statute books.

HINGES ON PEACE

All American soldiers in France will be returned to the United States by the middle of August, "if the War Department is able to release them," Secretary of the Navy Daniels told the House Naval Affairs Committee yesterday.

Secretary Daniels' announcement followed a declaration by Chairman Butler that "the War Department has promised that all the soldiers will be back by the middle of July, and the people expect the department to keep that promise. If it is not kept, there will be some expression from Congress on the conduct of the War Department," he added.

"There is no difference of opinion about the desire to have all the men in Europe back by August, if the War Department is able to release them," said Secretary Daniels. The inability of the War Department to release all the men, he explained, hinges on the size of the army of occupation the United States will be called upon to maintain.

WOULD CUT INDEMNITY

Germans Refuse to Surrender Kaiser And Demand Membership in League

Berlin, May 29.—In the German counter-proposals made public here yesterday an appeal is made to America and the other democracies of the world to give the newborn German republic the right to live.

Germany, it is stated, expected a peace based on justice, not vengeance. The proposed treaty, it is asserted, would destroy German economic life and establish a system of unparalleled financial slavery, and therefore is unaceptable.

"If it should come to force," it is added, "it would mean a fresh catastrophe for the world"

The terms of the league of nations are declared to be merely a continuation of the coalition of enemy powers. The allies, it is further asserted have established a new law under which Germany has no right to exist nationality.

Germany's counter-proposal in regard to reparation is an offer to pay an indemnity of 100,000000 marks (approximately $25,000,000,000 at rates of exchange prevailing before the war), 20,000,000,00 marks of this amount to be paid by 1926, and the remainder in fixed annual payments without interest.

It is proposed that allied troops be withdrawn from occupied territory within six months from the signing of the treaty.

Surrender of the former Kaiser for trial by the allies is to be absolutely refused.

Naval disarmament is to be accepted, but a demand will be made for the retention of a certain number of commercial vessels that have been apportioned among the allies.

Limitation of the army to 100,000 men is to be accepted, although it had been stated that a demand would be made that this number be increased.

A demand is made for the establishment of a commission under the league of nations to settle territorial and colonial questions.

Germany's right to enter the league of nations on equality with the other nations is asserted

Surrender of any part of Upper Silesia, or East of West Prussia is refused.

The strategical boundary of Poland as outlined in the treaty is called indefensible under the league of nations covenant.

The rights of the people of the Saar Valley and Alsace to self-determination are declared to be violated in the proposed settlement.

The desire is expressed that Danzig be made a free port and that the Vistula be neutralized.

For the decision of special disputes on the question of repatriation, it is asked that a general commission on reparations be appointed with a neutral presiding officer.

Permission is asked to tax fortunes which have been removed from Germany to other countries.

Many quotations from the speeches and writings of President Wilson are included in the preamble of the counter-proposals. These quotations are cited in support of the claim that the proposed treaty runs counter to the pledges of President Wilson and the principles of the league of nations.

In reference to the Polish strategical boundaries, it is pointed out that President Wilson has made the statement that the Nietze Valley and Posen are distinctly German, whereas the treaty has turned them over to Poland.

CASE OF AUSTRIA

Treaty Will be Presented Early, So Wilson May Attend

Paris, May 29.—The hour of the delivery of the Austrian peace terms Friday probably will be changed because President Wilson is due at Suresnes, a suburb of aPris, to deliver a memorial day address at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. It is understood that the time will be advanced from noon to 11 o'clock in the morning.

Seventy newspaper men will be present at the ceremony, Nine of them will be Americans.

The Austrian peace treaty, the newspapers say, will include clauses on the League of Nations similar to those which were a part of the German peace terms.

The Council of Four of the peace conference made a determined effort to effect a settlement of the Italian question yesterday. Andre Tardieu, of the French delegation after consultations with the Italian representatives, framed a formula generally the lines of a compromise proposed by Col. E M. House, of the American mission which was considered last week.

Colonel House, Captain Tardieu and Premier Orlando were present at the council meeting yesterday afternoon and there was said to be a fair chance that an adjustment might be reached yesterday afternoon.

BLACK HAND SECRETS

Witnesses Tell How Society Agreed to Murder Man for $1000 And Carried Out its Bargain.

Greensburg, Pa., May 29.—Startling revelations have marked the trial here of Dominick Domico, charged with the murder of Tony Cordillo, at Mount Pleasant, January 5. For the first time in the annals of the county witnesses are revealing workings of the Black Hand Society.

A price of $1000 is alleged to have been set on the head of Cordillo, who was ambushed and murdered, the killing having been determined upon at a meeting of the society in Mount Pleasant.

When the hearing was resumed Monday witnesses testified that Frank Mialli, Italian, wanted Cordillo killed or injured. At a meeting of the Black Hand Society it was determined that Mailli would have to put up $1000 if he wanted Cordillo killed, and $100 if he wanted him maimed. A detailed statement of the activities of the lawless gang was given by Joe Gross and Josina Dermot, members of the society, who have made a clean breast of the affair.

"The referendum to place the measure on the ballot has been started in 10 States," Mr. Bell said. "Forty-five States ratified the amendment though their legislatures and three declined to do so. That means that the measure is held up in 10 states by the referendum, leaving but 35 where final ratification has been effected, whereas 36 are necessary to make it operative.

"If Ohio, which will be the first State to vote on the referndum, ratifies it the necessary 36 will have been gained. But if it declines, the amendment will be suspended until the next general State election in Maine in September, 1920. The remaining general elections come in November, 1920.

The referendum now is progressing in California, Washington, New Mexico, Colorado, Nebraska, Missouri, Ohio, Arkansas, Michigan and Maine, Bell said.

BURIED ALIVE

At Osa Russia, Col. Casa Grande presided over a banquet in honor of the allies at the staff headquarters.

After the dinner the Mayor, the priest who has charge of the burying of the disinterred bodies came in and told of the reign of terror which began early in the summer and reached its climax in August, 1918, after the attempt on the life of Lenine in Moscow.

About 500 persons have been killed in Osa since the beginning of the terror and about 2,000 in the district. Some of those killed met their fate because they were unwilling or unable to pay the sums of money demanded of them, some because they were educated and some because the Bolsheviki were frenzied with a lust for blood.

Alexander Speranski, the priest told of seeing the mutilated bodies of men some of whom had been clubbed and others kicked to death. Several victims were buried before death relieved them of their suffering and one man dug up afterward had clutched in his fingers the earth of his grave eyes out, either as a result of clubbing or gouging.

Andre Michaelovitch Pinyagin a few days before had stood beside the rude coffin of his father. Pinyagin explained that his father had been killed for owning a brick house.

Your Next Winter's Coal

We do not know what the price of coal will be next Fall and Winter, as the retail price is governed by the price at the mines and the freight.

Our understanding of the present program is that Anthracite coal will advance ten cents a ton a month from May 1st to September 1st, and although we think this program will probably be carried out yet we are not sure of this.

We do know that THE MINES CANNOT PRODUCE, THE RAILROADS CANNOT HAUL, AND THE DEALERS CANNOT HANDLE nearly enough coal during the Fall and Winter months to take care of an ordinary Winter's demand.

This means that coal will have to be mined, transported and delivered during the Spring and Summer to avoid a serious shortage next Fall and Winter.

We advise our customers to take these facts into consideration and order a reasonable supply of coal now.

Austrian Proposals, to be Handed Over Tomorrow

..N..6K KWY....N d od roid oh

Paris, May 29.—Saint Germain Chateau on Friday of this week is to be the scene of the handing of the peace treaty to the Austrian delegation. The ceremony is to take place in the historic red room, with its memories of the stone age.

The financial, military and territorial section includes the Adriatic question. It is the opinion in French circles that these three sections will not be entirely completed by Friday, but that will not interfere with the presentation of the treaty. The question of the Austrian boundaries is to be settled at a later date by council of five and it is understood that the Austrians will accept whatever decision the council may reach.

The financial, military and territorial clauses of the treaty were discussed this morning by the big four and the discussion was resumed in the afternoon with the foreign ministers of the big five present.

isuwques-i .. rom do mod orin

The question of Fiume and other boundary matters will not be included. It was also learned the treaty will not contain detailed provisions regarding reparations, owing to the difficulty of apportioning Austria's debt among the nations which formerly made up the dual monarchy.

MEXICAN UNREST

The Mexican situation today is a grim parallel of the events in 1915 which led up to the Santa Ysabel massacre and the raid on Columbus New Mexico, with their accompanying loss of American lives.

This was learned at the State Department, when it was admitted that the Carranza government has requested permission of the United States to transport 2,000 soldiers through American territory, for operations against rebels in the North of Mexico, Chief of the latter is Pancho Villa.

The State Department sought the acquiescence of governors of the three border States. The governors of Arizona and New Mexico gave their sanction to the movement of Mexican troops through their States, but Governor Hobby, of Texas, protested. Because of his protest, the Department has not yet taken action. Its attitude, however, in "sounding out" the border State executives indicates it is favorable to the Carranza request.

Americans in Northern Mexico, residents in territory controlled by rebels, are vociferous in their demand that the Carranza request be turned down, according to reports received here. It was their complaints, doubtless, which led Governor Hobby to disapprove the State Department's request.

SOVIET RULE CRUMBLES

Siberians Storm Orenburg, The Last Bolshevik Stronghold in South

London, May 29.—Siberian troops of the Kolchak Government were storming Orenburg, one of the last Bolshevik strongholds in Southeastern Russia and an important railway junction, on May 21, according to a telegram received here from Omsk yesterday.

The Bolsheviki are faced by further internal troubles and the official statement received here by wireless from Moscow today refers to the "internal front," where "an advance against Vinnitsa has been stopped."

There has also been an uprising against the Soviet in the district of Shunga around Lake Onego, northwest of Petrograd.

According to a telegram received here from Kem, the Bolshevik commissioners in the Shunga district were killed and the Red Guards dispersed. Confirmation of this report is contained in the Russian wireless statement, which says that "the enemy has occupied the village of Rimsky, on the eastern shore of Lake Onego."

The Bolshevik statement also admits that the Bolshevik troops continue to retire in the Petrograd region before the Esthonians.

Vinnitsa is in the Ukraine, southwest of Kiev. It is in the rear of the Bolshevik forces engaged against the Roumanians in Bessarabia.

A Russian wireless message today denies the report that explosions had occurred in Petrograd due to its approaching evacuation. The dispatch declares there is no intention of abandoning the city and that reinforcements already sent to the Gatchina front, south of Petrograd, are succeeding in driving back the enemy.

New York, May 29.—The Estonian troops are entering Petrograd not as "an act of conquest" but for humanity and justice, in order to bring immediate relief to the suffering population, according to a statement issued here yesterday by the American Esthonian League at the request, the league's officials declared, of the Esthonian Government at Reval.

BUSINESS NOT STOPPED

Strike in Calgary is Mild; More Serious in Edmonton.

Calgary, Alta, May. 29.—Business was not noticeably disturbed yesterday by the general strike. Street cars were operating and lighting plants, theaters and hotels were conducted as normally.

Volunteers are at work in the postoffice and more will be added, it was announced. About 200 of the former governmental employees are on strike.

Conditions at Edmonton were reported as more serious. The street cars had stopped, restaurants and hotels were closed or badly crippled and the electric lighting system shut down. Police and firemen were said to be at work under orders from the strike committee.

Calgary, Alberta, May 29.—The charge was made by Hon. Gideon Robertson, Canadian Minister of Labor, in a telegram to Mayor Marshall of Calgary that the present strike situation in Canada is a move by radicals to assume control of governmental affairs.

In his telegram sent from Winnipeg Mr. Robertson charged the "one big union" movement in the underlying cause of the whole trouble.

READY TO APPLY FORCE

Advance Will Begin in 72 Hours After Germany Rejects Treaty

London, May 29.—Allied Blockade Councils in Paris has completed all arrangements for again putting the blockade of Germany into force in case the German delegates refuse to sign the peace treaty, while complete plans have been worked out for the fullest co-operation between the military and economic forces which will be employed in case of necessity.

Immediately following a failure of the Germans to sign the treaty, putting the Allied and associated governments to the necessity of acting, Germany will be given 72 hours' notice of the termination of the armistice. On the expiration of this period the British, French and Americans will advance into Germany. Simultaneously the blockade will be inforced as tightly as possible.

All the arrangements perfected during the war to protect as fas as possible the interests of neutral nations, while preventing the entry of food or raw material into Germany, again will be brought into play and Germany will find herself absolutely cut off from the rest of the world.

G. O. P. STARTS PROBE MOVE

War Department First to Come Under Searchilght

Washington, May 29.—Republicans made their first move in Congress yesterday toward beginning their proposed investigations of war expenses.

A resolution, approved by party leaders, was introduced by Representatives Graham, Illinois, calling for teh appointment by Speaker Gillett of a special committee of 15 members "to fully investigate all contracts and expenditures made by the War Department, or under its directions during the present war."

ENSIGN ENDS LIFE

Norfolk, May 29.—James G. McIver, aged 25, an ensign in the United States navy pay corps service, shot and killed himself yesterday in the navy department offices here. No motive could be found for taking his own life. McIver is said to have been married just three weeks and his wife is employed at the naval operating base.

Stimulate Retail Sales

ADVERTISE

U. S. Department of Labor

Never before has the American public had the money to spend which it has today.

The merchant or manufacturer who sits back and waits for this money to come to him without making any effort to get it will awaken when it is too late. He will then realize that his more aggressive competitor has been on the job and has taken advantage of the strongest sales weapon known to industry, namely, advertising.

Don't wait for things to come your way without doing anything to help them along.

Advertise—increase your advertising. use the newspapers to tell your story. Multiply the value of your sales talk a thousand fold and more. Develop that great potential market which is ready and willing—yes eager to buy the things you have to sell but does not know that you have them.

To stimulate business surely, quickly, and economically—Advertise now.

In "Come Again Smith," the new picture in which J. WET CANDIDATE IN RACE

Presidential Aspirant From New Jersey Would Allow Two "Souses" A Year.

Washington, May 29.—The first candidate to announce himself for the Presidency in 1920 is wet. He believes in free beer and other intoxicants, and would permit two "souses" a year under the law.

His name is "Capt. Sir Mark Golem Kt. M. M."—whatever all that may be—and he hails from New Jersey, which already boasts one President.

Golein heads what he terms the 'New party," and allows that his party "will save the Union." He's got a platform and everything. And his wife, "Lady Golein," who apparently is getng her husband's boom under way, says he's fighting no party because there is "some good and some bad in all of them."

She submitted her husband's name as a candidate, adding privately that she really had hoped he wouldn't win the election, but some one had to be elected, so she had become resigned to help out.

Then she sprang his platform, which has a wet plank as a headliner. Golein would have "free manufacture and sale of beer, whisky and other liquors; six months on the chain gang for convicted drunkards, the family receiving $1 a day for his labor." Such drunkards could get drunk only twice a year—July 4 and Christmas.

Golein says he stands for "the liberty of the people," "reduction of taxation and trade protection," "Construction of a merchant marine on a sure and safe basis," "religious, political, medical and business freedom, with a minimum wake for workers and equal suffrage."

BLAMES REDS FOR RIOTS

Mayor of New Haven Thinks "Bolshevik Elements" Responsible For Clash With Yale Men

New Haven, Conn., May 28.—The riot which kept this city in an uproar most of Wednesday night was attributed yesterday by Mayor Fitzgerald to "Bolshevik elements," which had taken advantage of a minor clash between discharged service men and Yale undergraduates, caused by unconfirmed reports that Yale men had hissed the One Hundred and Second Regiment band.

Throughout the night the college authorities had complete control over the students, keeping them within the dormitories. Those students who figured in fights were such as were caught upon the streets by the mobs while returning from theatres or dances.

Although the police were vigilant they could not for hours prevent clashes, nor could they fathom the reasons for the semblance of organized attack. Once a platoon of officers with drawn pistols was stretched across Elm street and the Green between the graduate club and the public library. Chief Smith afterward said this was done for effect. Officers guarded theatre exits to protect men who might have been mistaken for students. The police reports showed five young men hurt, two by bullets, none seriously, and about a dozen detained pending inquiry.

For several hours the mob, broken up into groups rushed through the streets. There appeared to be ex-service men among the disturbers.

The students' council yesterday, in a statement, after expressing admiration of Yale men for the men who served under the colors especially the One Hundred and Second men, expressed the opinion that neither service men nor students were responsible for Tuesday's night's outbreak. It is believed that other elements planned and controlled the affair.

The bill for window glass at Yale will be considerable. Attacks was made on Osborne Hall after a man harangued the crowd saying that the students had insulted the soldiers.

LYNCHED NEAR COURT

Missouri Murderer Taken From Officers and Hanged

Lamar, Mo., May 29.—Shortly after Jay Lynch had pleaded guilty of the murder of Sheriff John Harlow and his son and had been sentenced to life imprisonment, 24 men entered the courtroom, took Lynch from teh hands of officers, and hanged him in the yard before a crowd of 500 persons. When Lynch's body was swung into the air the spectators, including many women and children, cheered.

Lynch is one of the few white men to be lynched in Missouri.

Immediately after Judge B. G. Thurman passed sentence he ordered Lynch taken to his office under guard of seven deputies. Here he was allowed to gree this wife, baby, mother and sister. His handcuffs had been removed that he might hold his baby, and he had just given the child back to its mother when the men entered and seized him.

FARMS FOR SOLDIERS

Washington, May 29.—Secretary Lane explained in detail before the House Public Lands Committee yesterday his project for furnishing farms to soldiers and sailors and urged speedy enactment of the bill designed to carry it into effect.
